UNC AMERICAN INDIAN CENTER PRESENTS

THE NATIVE NARRATIVE TOUR

UNC Visitor’s Center is proud to offer The Native Narrative Tour, a current perspective on the American Indian presence at the University of North Carolina that also brings awareness to Native experiences before the University was built and to visions for the future.
The Native Narrative is offered the 3rd Friday of the month, October - April when classes are in session or by special appointment.

www.unc.edu/visitors • 919.962.1630

UNC Visitors’ Center
West Wing
Morehead Planetarium Building
250 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27599

www.unc.edu/visitors • 919.962.1630

THE GIFT

“The Gift” is a functional artwork envisioned and created by Senora Lynch (Haliwa-Saponi). The walkway, located between the two Student Union buildings, is composed in a staggered pattern typical of beadwork but rendered in colored brick on a massive scale and depicts traditional southeastern Native American life symbols such as turtles, eagle feathers, ears of corn, mountains, and water.

GIVE BACK

The UNC American Indian Center relies heavily on support from donors. By giving, you are investing in the permanency, presence and impact of the Center. Please visit americanindiancenter.unc.edu for more information on ways to make a gift.

The Native Narrative is offered the 3rd Friday of the month, October - April when classes are in session or by special appointment.